

Quiñenco Announces Proposed Dividend for 2025

- Including the payment made last December, the proposed dividend represents 100% of net income in 2025.
- Macario Valdés, CEO of Quiñenco, explained that “we have a robust capital structure, which allows us to provide significant returns to our shareholders while at the same time retaining resources for potential new investments.”

Santiago, April 2, 2026. Through material information submitted to the Financial Market Commission (CMF), Quiñenco announced today that its Board of Directors agreed to propose the distribution of a final dividend of Ch$580,368 million charged against profit attributable to owners of the parent for 2025.

The amount corresponds to Ch$349.03887 per share, which is in addition to the Ch$100,000 million paid as an interim dividend last December. Therefore the total dividend amounts to Ch$680,368 million, equivalent to 100% of net income for the year. If approved by the Annual Shareholders' Meeting, to be held on Wednesday April 29, payment will be made as of May 15 to shareholders registered in the corresponding registry at midnight on May 9.

Quiñenco's Chief Executive Officer, Macario Valdés, explained that “we have a robust capital structure, which allows us to provide significant returns to our shareholders while at the same time retaining resources for potential new investments.”
